GOOD ENTERTAINMENT, NEAT SUM NETTED

The public school entertainment given in the high school auditorium last Thursday night was highly successful. The attendance was good but ought to have been better. The seating capacity of the hall was pretty well used but every seat should have been full and standing room used besides. Both pupils and teachers made a considerable sacrifice to prepare the entertainment and their efforts should have been better appreciated. One purpose of the entertainment was to raise money to better outfit the basketball teams and this object was almost wholly for the good of the school. For what is a school in these days which can not play good basketball?

Financial results of the entertainment were gratifying, more than $35. having been taken in.

The program of the evening was very successfully carried out. There were twelve numbers and every one well executed. The folk dances appealed particularly to the audience and were insistently encored until repeated. All other numbers were heartily applauded. The orchestra and band music was of the high order which characterizes the work of those trained by Prof. Geo. L. Barnes. The recitation by Dorothy Wilson was rendered in a spirited manner and the "Legend of Bregenz" made very real. The reading by Miss Lulu Keating was dramatic and the sacrifice of Kanana was visualized by her listeners thru every step. His lance with its inscription was plainly seen as it darted thru the air and his tragic death gripped her hearers.

The two songs, "After the Rain" and "The Happy Miller" were happily rendered by sweet voices and the latter was so persistently encored that the sixth grade girls sang "Class of Jolly Boys and Girls" in response.

The drills and tumbling bar exercises bore testimony to good work being done in the gymnasium of the Williams Public School.

AGE AND YOUTH MINGLE IN HALLOW- E'EN FESTIVITIES

In response to jingling invitations on stationery in the colors of the season, appropriately garbed and en masque to carry out the spirit and tradition of Halloween, about seventy-five couples from Williams, Flagstaff and other places gathered last Friday evening in the auditorium of the old opera house to dance and make merry with the Mesdames William M. and Kenneth Hughes, hostesses of the occasion. The event had been looked forward to by the society folk of Northern Arizona and culminated in a brilliant evening of jolly revelry, in which the older and usually sedate joined heartily with the younger and more frivolous in the sports and customs of the "Harvest Home" period of the year.

Elaborate preparations had been made for the entertainment of the maskers. The interior decorations of the hall attested the skill and taste of the hostesses and were in thro harmony with the spirit of the evening. Autumn leaves, with the rich and gorgeous coloring of the changing season, were used profusely in wall decorations and festoons while hob-goblins and black cats glared through the branches in apparent wonderment at the motly array of beauty and comedy mingling merrily on the ball room floor.

Excellent taste was displayed by the maskers in the selection of costumes, the fancy dresses combining with the decorations to produce a most pleasing picture and contributing no little to the pleasure of the evening. Rich beauty met grotesque comedy, Father Time defied tradition and danced nimbly with Youth, any number of Pirot gracefully whirled as many Pirettes and Miss Dixie, bedecked in the flounces and frills of a "before the War" period lightly tripped a measure with a cave man in leopard skins of a yet earlier period. Red head clowns made trouble for a black beard Yiddisher from Poland and a straw head emigrant from the Fatherland. Roman senators and admirals of the U. S. N. lent their dignity, which was in distinct contrast to the mischievous girlishness of a number in pinafores with hair in braids, while a Salvation Army lassie shed her radiance upon a benighted Chinese mandarin.

Mysterious witches and their satellites mingled with the throng and directed the dancers to somberly decorated nooks and crannies where seers delved in the occult and told the past present and future. The interior of the room lent a number of retreats for gnomes and their iron pots. On occasion when the lights were dimmed, these pots gave forth vari-colored lights giving a weird effect to the dancers and their evolutions on the floor.

Refreshment booths furnished soft drinks and large baskets at different points around the room contained apples and autumn fruits, which were greatly enjoyed. Shortly before midnight masks were ordered off and the identity of the maskers furnished many surprises. Dancing was continued until a late hour, excellent music being furnished for the occasion.

Mr. Frank Gilligan of Babbitt-Polson returned last Saturday from Ash Fork where he substituted for the bookkeeper of the B. P. store while he was gone on a hunting trip.

Mr. M. Mansfield of Babbitt-Polson made a business trip to Flagstaff Tuesday.

The School Entertainment

By Lenore Reese.

A large crowd of people attended the school entertainment last Thursday evening. The program began at eight o'clock, with some High School orchestra numbers, after which some of the fifth grade children danced a pretty little Dutch folk dance. Their folk dancing was over entirely to soon and they were applauded by all. The next thing on the program was a recitation by Dorothy Wilson, one of the eighth grade pupils, entitled "The Legend of Bregenz." She told the story of a maiden saving her village from being des-

There is a Real Difference

Cream of tartar, derived from grapes, is used in Royal Baking Powder because it is the best and most healthful ingredient known for the purpose.

Phosphate and alum, which are derived from mineral sources, are used in some baking powders, instead of cream of tartar, because they are cheaper.

If you have been induced to use baking powders made from alum or phosphate, use Royal Baking Powder instead. You will be pleased with the results and the difference in the quality of the food.

MUNICIPAL TREE FOR CHRISTMAS

Last year a committee consisting of Mrs. E. J. Nordyke, Mrs. R. C. Wente, Mr. T. A. Moore, Mrs. Hadstadt and Mr. Latham had in charge the matter of preparing and presenting a municipal Christmas tree in Williams. Thru a sub committee composed of Mrs. W. M. Hughes, Jas. Kennedy, Mrs. E. H. Duffield and a number of others funds were raised for the tree and the event was made an entire success. More money was raised for the tree than was used and this surplus money $56. was banked and has been on interest ever since. It is now available for another Christmas tree this year, if the people of Williams desire to have one. The News will be glad to publish opinions on the question of a municipal Christmas tree for this year. If opinions are favorable a public meeting should be arranged for that the work of preparation may be gotten under way.

Enford Johnson took a party of friends to Lake Mary for a pleasure trip on Sunday.
